St George's
PREPARATORY SCHOOL

LA HAGUE MANOR

Stroll around the grounds of this large manor house built in 1753 and remodelled by Charles le Cornu in the 1870s, now home to the preparatory school students of St George's School. It is assumed that Charles and his wife Anne planted many of the magnificent specimen trees on the sheltered cotil below the house.

The formal sweeping lawns surround the house and include a huge walled garden.

The house was requisitioned by the Germans as their west of island HQ, then owned privately before St George's School moved there in 1979.

Trails through the extensive grounds offer a steep path down the cotil to admire 100 year old Redwoods, Pines, Magnolias and Acers which include the largest in the Island. These exotic species were favoured by knowledgeable planters of the Victorian era who had access to newly introduced trees from around the globe.

Visitors who enjoy an easier path may enjoy the Storybook Trail on the higher ground through the magical woodland that extends from the lawn.

This venue is a romantic and peaceful location set in the heart of St Peter, a short distance from the village and Jersey Airport.

The traditional manor house is the perfect backdrop and provides various options for wedding ceremonies and receptions, ideal for both small and large functions.
